

Why Many Christians Do Not Follow the 10 Commandments

1. Misunderstanding of Grace vs. Law:

Many Christians are taught that under the New Covenant, the Law (Torah) was abolished.

They believe grace through faith in Yahusha (Jesus) replaces the need to obey the commandments.

2. Paul's Letters Misinterpreted:

Paul's writings are often cited to argue against Torah observance, but he never said the Law was void.

In fact, Romans 3:31 says, "Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law."

3. Sabbath Commandment Ignored:

The fourth commandment, to remember the Sabbath and keep it holy, is commonly neglected.

Constantine officially changed the day of worship to Sunday in 321 AD, and many churches followed suit.

4. Church Tradition Over Scripture:

Over centuries, man-made traditions have replaced many of the original instructions given by Yahuah.

The commandments were either spiritualized or deemed "Jewish" and therefore not applicable to Christians.

5. Yahusha Taught Obedience:

Yahusha (Jesus) said in Matthew 5:17-19 that He did not come to destroy the Law but to fulfill it.

He warned that those who break the least of the commandments and teach others to do so will be called least in the Kingdom.

6. The Commandments Are Eternal:

Psalms 119:152 says, "Concerning thy testimonies, I have known of old that thou hast founded them for ever."

Conclusion:

Many Christians do not follow the 10 Commandments not because they reject righteousness, but due to centuries of theological shifts, misinterpretation, and tradition.

A return to the original teachings and honoring Yahuah's instructions is needed.
